School of Medicine Distinguished Service Award

This award recognizes School of Medicine faculty members who have demonstrated outstanding service and citizenship to the Emory community and/or Atlanta and surrounding region. One award will be given in each of the following categories:

- Junior Faculty Member (Instructor or Assistant Professor)
- Senior Faculty Member (Associate Professor or Professor)

Deadline: Nominations will be accepted through July 21, 2017.

Eligibility: All faculty with a primary appointment in the Emory University School of Medicine. The faculty member’s rank at the time of nomination will determine the category in which he/she is eligible.

Nominations: Faculty must be nominated by a faculty member or a staff member of Emory University, Emory Healthcare, or an Emory affiliate. A concise, one to two page narrative describing the outstanding service or citizenship contributions should be included in the nomination. Up to two additional letters of support (one page each) from internal or external individuals or organizations may also be submitted. Nominations should emphasize specific aspects of service or citizenship. Outstanding examples of service and citizenship can include, but is not limited to:

- Important administrative service to the Emory community despite heavy clinical or research demands
- Service to the community via public education programs or campaigns, volunteerism, or non-profit organizations
- Exemplary service to underserved populations, colleagues or the general public
- Development of new or innovative programs as recognized by the University or School of Medicine
- Participation and leadership in University, School of Medicine, or hospital/clinic-wide committees

Submission: Must be emailed to the SOM Office of Faculty Development and include the following:

- Nominating letter (one to two pages)
- Optional materials: Up to two letters of support (one page each) from internal or external individuals or organizations

Decision: Will be made by the School of Medicine Recognitions Committee and approved by the Dean.

Award: Recipients of the Emory Medicine Distinguished Service Award will be announced and honored during the Celebration of Faculty Excellence on October 18, 2017.
